CHESTERFIELD SERVICE WINS THE 2018
MEDAL OF EXCELLENCE AWARD

St. Louis, MO, (February 21, 2018) – Chesterfield Service was presented with the Medal of Excellence Award from HVAC industry leader Bryant Heating and Cooling.

The Medal of Excellence is based on Bryant's high standards of quality, reliability and performance. These standards are set in place to ensure the very best for customers. Each year this award is given only to an elite few, the top 15 dealers across North America.

Chesterfield Service has completed numerous hours of continuing education training to stay certified. This training allows their technicians to be comfortable installing and understanding the latest technology in customer's homes. This also ensures Chesterfield Service Technicians know what your system needs to run at its highest efficiency.

"Koch Air is proud to partner with outstanding dealers such as Chesterfield Service. Chesterfield Service represents the value of Bryant products and what it means to do WHATEVER IT TAKES for their customers" Melanie A. Leach-Moore, Koch Air Marketing Manager
